Career Summary:

An attentive and driven individual that has worked solo or in large teams. I communicated frequently with clients and their customers to resolve any conflicts that may arise during the contract. Also, I built a great working relationship and cooperated with other departments and contractors as we cooperated on specific projects. I wrote many detailed reports according to client and employer specifications involving updates and any problems with the contract. I have worked many different contracts each with their own set of rules and customer expectations.
